

The Great Barrier reef is highly important to Australia for symbolic, economic and environmental reasons. I am writing to urge that the act review not be used to weaken the protection of the Great Barrier Reef. The act should be strengthened to provide more protection against pollution from sewage, stormwater, farming and aquaculture. I believe that the GBRMP authority should remain a statutorily independent authority, and protected from the vagaries of political change.

Yours faithfully,
Fiona Wood